Question 7. “There was a sudden and wonderful change in his soul”. What brought about the change in Soapy?

Answer: Soapy stood in front of the house where he had spent his childhood. He was reminded of his mother, the sweet music he used to enjoy in his room, had clean clothes to wear and the decent life he used to have back then. He decided that he will work to change his life.

Discuss the following topics in groups.

Question 1. Suppose no cop came at the end. What would Soapy’s life be like through the winter?

Answer: There are two possibilities that could have happened if no cop had come at the end.

- 1) Soapy’s life would have been very difficult in the winter as he did not have a house and no money to leave and eat. He would have to suffer a lot in winter.
- 2) But, if he would have worked as he decided at the end of the story then he had a decent life once again.

Question 2. Retell an episode in the story which is a good example of irony in a situation.

Answer: When Soapy felt that the winter was approaching, he decided that he would spend the next three months in jail. For that, he decided to do some small crime. But even after trying multiple times, he was not caught by the cops.

But, when he decided to work and lead a decent life, he was arrested by a cop. This is a good example of irony in a situation.
